

Remote Electronic Form I-9 Processing On-line Real Time with Live Notaries Public

You Are My Witness™ a Division of AYIN International, Inc. is the leader in real-time web based Notary Public services for employee and partner identification verification requirements many organizations need to fulfill today. The employee eligibility verification and certification Form I-9, has become a critical step in employee on-boarding.

You Are My Witness™ has developed a patented method for completing the Form I-9 process rapidly over the internet which includes the added benefit of allowing the employer to meet critical responsibilities to the Department of Homeland Security. Our solution connects new employees to meet with our Notaries public in real time via a secure video conference and a solution for digitally signing their electronic Form I-9.

We are developing a suite of “Non-Notarial” services where additional documents that require verification of employee identification and long term storage of the recorded interaction can also leverage our solution. One example is support for witnessing documentation for network security access and badge processing for companies that have major security protocols and processes to manage secure employee and partner access to corporate assets. These type of requirements are common in many industries including Bio-Pharmaceutical, Bio-Technology, Aerospace, High Technology, and Software.
